Embedded College Review for Educational Oversight by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education

May 2012

Annex 6: University of Leicester International Study Centre

Introduction and background

The University of Leicester International Study Centre (ISC) was established in 2008. It delivers an International Foundation Year (Economics, Business, Social Sciences; Engineering, Physics, Mathematics; Science and Computing), and an English Language Preparation Programme. Students who successfully complete the ISC programmes and achieve the required progression grades will progress to an undergraduate programme at the University.

The responsibilities of the respective parties are set out in the inter-institutional agreement. Responsibility for academic standards and the quality of learning opportunities rests with Bellerbys Educational Services Ltd, though the agreement makes no explicit statement in this regard. The University has approved the International Foundation Year programme but does not make awards for it. The University is responsible for public information.
