QAA International Membership provides vision, expertise and guidance on the topics that matter to your staff and students, ensuring your institution is well equipped to face the opportunities and challenges of a rapidly changing global higher education environment. We work in partnership with, and for, all our members to deliver high quality services that:

- safeguard academic standards and champion academic integrity
- enhance the quality of the student learning experience, wherever students are studying
- support continuous improvement of approaches to quality assurance

QAA International Membership is an opportunity to become part of a new international community of quality professionals and higher education institutions – including QAA’s UK Members – that are passionate about the quality of the student experience they deliver.

Benefits of International Membership

As a QAA International Member you will benefit from:

- informative, timely and responsive quality enhancement resources designed to support you in improving your provision
- opportunities for staff development
- a programme of activities that offers opportunities to learn from international colleagues through sharing of the best of international practice.

For those institutions with, or seeking to establish, UK partnerships it will provide opportunities to make new connections and develop knowledge about the UK higher education system.

Who can join QAA International Membership?

Full International Membership is exclusively for those institutions who have achieved International Quality Review (IQR) accreditation from QAA. Details of how to become a member can be found on page 8.
As a Full International Member you will have access to a wide range of resources which cover a broad area of activity centred on the themes chosen for the Membership year.

Resources

All staff and students can access practical written resources, recordings and presentations on our exclusive Membership Resources Site. These include:

- Individual papers and briefings on topics most relevant to members, for example, the use of micro-credentials; assessment and learning outcomes; and enterprise and entrepreneurship.
- Case studies and opinion pieces that build on these resources and briefings, including QAA’s publicly available Quality Compass series, designed to help members navigate and respond to future challenges and opportunities.
- An International Membership Newsletter from the International Membership team that will keep you up to date with the latest activities, resources and opportunities for members every month.
- An annual series of country-focused reports that explore and enable members to gain insight and learn about quality assurance, accreditation and partnership in many countries - for example, UAE, China, Vietnam, Indonesia and Morocco.
- An International Policy Briefing providing the latest news on global quality assurance and enhancement activity, topics and themes every two months.

Staff development

International Quality Assurance Training is open to staff from member institutions. Six topics per year will be offered and will be decided on the basis of feedback from our International Members. Sessions planned for 2022-23 are:

- Managing risk in partnerships
- Using data for enhancement
- Student engagement for quality and enhancement
- Maintaining a quality culture
- Student-centred learning and teaching
- Maximising the benefits from student feedback

The sessions are offered at beginner level for individuals relatively new to the topic covered and at intermediate level for those more experienced professionals.
Events, workshops and briefings

Members also have access to a number of free places for staff and students at a comprehensive programme of events, workshops and virtual briefings that enable members to hear latest developments and best practice in all aspects of international quality assurance. These include:

- QAA’s high-profile Annual Conference which includes a range of informative and thought-provoking sessions and the opportunity to hear from high-quality speakers about different perspectives and institutional approaches to the hot topics in quality and standards (up to 20 online places per institution).
- The Quality Insights Conference which showcases leading practice in higher education from a range of dynamic UK and international guest speakers across themes such as inclusive learning communities, assessment design, and innovative approaches to managing quality (up to 20 online places per institution).
- An Academic Symposium which features interactive discussion, reflection and practice (up to 20 online places per institution).
- Webinars and events on topics important to members – for example, approaches in evaluation and review, student mental health and wellbeing; and embedding education for sustainable development.
- An annual series of country-focused briefings from experts, exploring issues raised in our Country Reports for members. These briefings provide a comprehensive analysis of each country’s higher education landscape and the opportunities and challenges of developing partnerships in country.
- A series of webinars exploring managing risk and assurance in international partnerships (up to 3 online places per institution).
- Our bi-monthly International Policy Briefing provides members with the latest news on global quality assurance and enhancement activity. These briefings may also be themed on topics that our international members advise us are important to them. For example, a recent International Policy Briefing focussed on academic integrity.

Networking and support

As an International Member you will be invited to International Member Clinics sessions held three times a year. These provide an opportunity for a number of your staff to meet with QAA colleagues and talk about specific issues you might have, agreed in advance.

The International Member Network provides a termly forum for International Members to come together to learn about and talk through latest developments in international quality assurance and enhancement, at the same time helping members to build up their own network of contacts. The sessions provide an opportunity for staff across our member institutions to come together to discuss a theme that members are finding topical or challenging.
Collaborative Enhancement Projects

QAA Collaborative Enhancement Projects offer funding for small groups of institutions to work together on projects to enhance the quality of the participating institutions’ student learning experience. Funded projects also lead to the development of outputs that benefit the wider QAA membership and higher education sector.

This year, we will launch International Collaborative Enhancement Projects. International Members (Full and Associate) can submit an application as a Project Lead or work with a UK university as a Project Partner. Applications for project funding are expected to open in October 2022.

Examples of projects in 2021-22 include accessibility and equity in proofreading, the improvement of student learning by linking inclusion/accessibility and academic integrity, and developing social entrepreneurial skills in students.

QAA Membership Resources Site

As an International Member, all your staff and students will benefit from the support and constructive challenge membership offers to help you enhance your quality culture across your institution. You will enjoy unlimited access to the QAA Membership Resources Site, as well as the opportunity to attend different events and conferences.

In your institution, this could include:
- senior leadership teams
- academic staff and academic developers
- international teams
- quality teams and other professional services staff
- students and their representatives
- staff responsible for student engagement.

The QAA Membership Resources Site gives access to a wealth of resources including briefings, research outcomes, country reports and materials relating to our events. Resources are relevant to students and staff with a wide range of roles.

Each month the newsletter highlights the latest resources that will be of interest to you as an international member. To register for the site, all you need is an email address from a QAA International Member institution.

International Membership Badge

As an International Member you will be able to display the QAA International Membership Badge.
Informed by our horizon-scanning and co-created through engagement with members, the themes and topics for 2022-23 build on learning from previous years to help you prepare for the future.

Each theme includes a range of practical resources and development activity delivered throughout the year that will ensure you have the right information and tools at your fingertips. There are also opportunities to develop and exchange ideas on the latest policy and practice and network with other International Members.
